mineheart
book 1

"We believe that the objects we surround ourselves with everyday should be more than just functional, they should be made of stories, love, art and poetry in order to meaningfully exist..."

Mineheart was founded by designers Brendan Young and Vanessa Battaglia.

The company name Mineheart was inspired by the Shakespearian quote: "Mine eye and heart..." to symbolise their dual passions; love for tradition and eye for contemporary design which are combined in often surprising and delightful ways within the Mineheart collection.

"The idea behind mineheart is to create a playground for creativity and discovery, where art meets design, and poetry meets industry. We try to inject a sense of wonder in to everyday objects and spaces around us, telling stories and creating things that are truly surprising," Young&Battaglia

Key to Mineheart's ethos is also the support of British design and manufacturing. Most Mineheart products are designed, made and assembled in the UK, this enables more control over production and quality, giving greater flexibility and the ability to offer custom made and bespoke pieces for clients. They are all made by passionate people, who love, live and breathe their craft.

At Mineheart we are always looking for inspirational work, new materials and interesting collaborations. We collaborate with artist from various backgrounds and medias where their world meets ours in a complementary and surprising way. We have enjoyed working with artists such as Himitsuhana, Chad Wys, Angela Rossi, Joao Figueiredo and Courtney Brims who's work fits perfectly within the Mineheart mindset, often mixing or twisting classical ideas in new and unexpected ways.

We are constantly working on new ideas, and we only produce things we really really like. Our work brings us joy and we hope our products transmit that in to the homes they are used in, and that we can continue on this exciting journey of art and discovery for many years to come ;-)

Little Crush 2 Table Lamp

Little Crush was one of Young and Battaglia's first designs, the crushed plastic drinks bottle with its sculptural sharp angles immediately caught the eye of the design world. Now they have revisited the idea and this time the distinctive shape is created using high quality hand-blown black glass that is squashed by hand. Because each one is handmade, every one is unique. Sistine Pendant Lampshade

The 'Sistine' pendant light is inspired by frescos and chapel ceilings. The minimalist slim shape combined with the dreamlike imagery can add a touch of romance to both modern and traditional interiors alike. Designed by Young & Battaglia with artwork by Himitsuhana.

Persian Polkadot Collection

The iconic Persian rug design is brought up to date with the addition of bright polka dots in this new range of tufted rugs by Mineheart. The contrast of the traditional winding woven floral motifs with the bright geometric pops of colour creates a 21st century take on this classic design.

Midnight Moods A wonderful blend of blues from navy to aquamarine are combined in this design with the bright yellow polka dots looking like patches of sunshine cast through a window, highlighting the complex details of the flower motif.

Monochrome Magic Ideal for those wanting to bring a little detail to a monochromatic room, this colour way surprises by incorporating the floral and patterned detail of the traditional woven Persian rug but without the bright colours. The subtle tones of dark grey, black and white make this a sophisticated choice.

Autumn Morning The warm orange dots are reminiscent of Autumn leaves falling to the ground and contrast beautifully with the intricate details of the flowers and winding stems of the dark blue background.

Princely Purple Dusky pink is the 'new neutral' with many interior designers using it to provide a warm backdrop to a whole range of colours. Here it works beautifully with the deep purple spots that bring flashes of richness to the design and accentuate the exquisite twisting stems and delicate flowers.

Crystal Lens

The ornate frame is not as it seems; in fact it's printed onto the canvas. Made in England.

The proximity of a modern palette - intriguingly extended over the painting's frame creates a captivating concept. Designers Young & Battaglia playfully blur the boundaries between the frame and the artwork by superimposing fragments of colour over a traditional neoclassical portrait and frame, both of which are digitally printed on to the canvas itself. The paintings subject, Rosalba, is re-imagined for the 21st Century, refracted through prismatic schemes to bring her beauty alive again.

Winter's Morning refracts sombre tones to bring a hint of mystery to the piece.

Rays Of Spring refracts light tones to bring a hint of colour to the piece.

Strange Fruit canvas postulates that art and food are perfectly peculiar partners, a case best made when the freshest food on the table is drizzled with the essence of the world's warmest colour.

Scent of Cobalt canvas proves that nature is beautifully constant in its change, offering endless opportunities to alter the familiar, as with the inclusion of this bright blue splashed across a traditional floral scene.

Still Pink canvas symbolises a wealth of riches, the cut glass decanters, gold vessels and damask and velvet drapes contrast with the intense pink paint that overflows through the stilllife. It's pouring its heart out in the brightest of shades.

Renaissance Portraiture

Designed by Young & Battaglia with image by Himitsuhana. The ornate frame is not as it seems; in fact it's printed onto the canvas.

Water is not enough... In this portrait by Himitsuhana a young lady washes at the side of a babbling brook, dressed in luxurious velvets and taffeta, we can see this is no servant girl. Cherubs and landscape are glimpsed in the background. This picture is a modern twist on the traditional pastoral portraits of the 18th century when landed gentry were depicted outside in their pleasure gardens and grottos.

Mirror Mirror.. This portrait by Himitsuhana depicts a young lady in traditional dress holding a mask, yet the mask is a perfect and magical replica of her face. Referencing the masked balls which were so popular in the 18th century, Himitsuhana has created a curious tableaux, the lady looks pensive and is dressed in black, the mask is a metaphor for her life.

Fire is not enough... This image by Himitsuhana shows a young dandy dressed in his fine embroidered frock coat and feathered cap. With a musket in one hand and a blazing rose in the other. Does it speak of unrequited love or a scorned declaration?

Joao's Cushions

Collaboration with a portuguese postmodernist artist, Joao Figueiredo, who works in acrylic with a strong black palette for maximum impact. Using half-seen fragments of older paintings, he juggles modernity with tradition and infuses the whole with humour, playing with the whole concept of art and how we appreciate it. By 'appropriating' these traditional portraits of women of yore – and taking something away – he recreates the feel of Duchamp's surrealism. Made from 100% cotton satin, with concealed zip and feather pad.

The cushion collection includes Celia, Edith, Isabella and Grace cushions.

Animal Ancestors Cushions

Angela Rossi in collaboration with Young & Battaglia.

Dame Giralda Angela Rossi always carefully matches each animal personality with its clothing to create a striking but lovable character and here brings us Dame Giralda the most exotic giraffe dressed in her finery.

Princess Flaminia Surely the star of anyone's personal menagerie must be the statuesque flamingo and Princess Flaminia looks magnificent in a velvet embroidered bodice, her pink plumage glowing against the dark blue background. The warm magenta tones of the Princess Flaminia cushion would look great against an inky blue velvet chair or sofa.

Lord Montague This mighty Moose looks quite the gentleman in his green brocade edged coat. Lord Montague evokes the atmosphere of a traditional mountain hunting lodge with a roaring fire, team him with a beaten up leather armchair and a dark green woollen throw to complete the look.

Duke Gibson The 18th century aristocrats loved their pet monkeys and regularly dressed them up. In this modern day version designed by Angela Rossi, Duke Gibson looks commanding and perfectly at home in his regimental regalia complete with golden epaulets, dark green satin sash and medals for bravery. Cushion made from 100% cotton satin, with concealed zip and feather pad.

Dimensions: 450mm x 450mm

Lady Grey & Lords and Masters Cushions

Lady Grey In this beautiful cushion the delicate features of Lady Grey seem to peer out from a fractured glass prism that magically catches the light. The design of this cushion marries traditional portraiture with a geometric diamond print fusing vintage and modern influences in an unexpected combination.

Lords and Masters The commanding portraits of the English aristocracy are cleverly distorted by the geometric abstract design of this contemporary cushion bringing old and new interior styles together in a surprising combination.

Cushions made from 100% cotton satin, with concealed zip and feather pad.

Dimensions: 450mm x 450mm

Geo Raphaelite & Patch Ritza Cushions

Geo Raphaelite The old masters collide in this mash-up of a traditional landscape print with a nude portrait. The geometric stripes provide a clever way to weave the two images together creating an intriguing image. The lady Eugenie casts a knowing eye at the room, her modesty intact thanks to the vertical stripes of the landscape that fragment and compliment the scene.

Patch Ritza Our Queen Isabella cushion features a collage of different classical paintings creating a compelling and unexpected image. The carefully chosen elements from different portraits are sliced together to create an intriguing new character that demands a second look. Cushions made from 100% cotton satin, with concealed zip and feather pad. Dimensions: 450mm x 450mm
